Inventory of Hazardous Material (IHM) – PART III

Once the decision to recycle has been taken, part III of the Inventory should be developed before the final survey, taking into account the fact that a ship destined to be recycled shall minimize the wastes remaining on board (regulation 8.2 of the Convention).

Each item listed in part III should correspond to the ship's operations during its last voyage. If the stores to be listed in part III of the Inventory provided in table C of appendix 1 (MEPC.269(68)) are to be delivered with the ship to a ship recycling facility, the unit (e.g. capacity of cans and cylinders), quantity and location of the stores should be listed in part III of the Inventory. If any liquids and gases listed in table C of appendix 1 (MEPC.269(68)) are integral in machinery and equipment on board a ship, their approximate quantity and location should be listed in part III of the Inventory. However, small amounts of lubricating oil, anti-seize compounds and grease which are applied to or injected into machinery and equipment to maintain normal performance do not fall within the scope of this provision. For subsequent completion of part III of the Inventory during the recycling preparation processes, the quantity of liquids and gases listed in table C of appendix 1 (MEPC.269(68)) required for normal operation, including the related pipe system volumes, should be prepared and documented at the design and construction stage. This information belongs to the ship, and continuity of this information should be maintained if the flag, owner or operator of the ship changes. Regular consumable goods, as provided in table D of appendix 1 (MEPC.269(68)) should not be listed in part I or part II but should be listed in part III of the Inventory if they are to be delivered with the ship to a Ship Recycling Facility. A general description including the name of item (e.g. TV set), manufacturer, quantity and location should be entered in part III of the Inventory.
